Comments: I'm voicing my support for non-animal testing. You oversee the development of non-animal test methods and have a disappointing record of only approving one non-animal test method originating in the United States, while your counterpart in Europe, ECVAM, has approved dozens. Animals continue to suffer needlessly while you stall as a vehicle to support, develop, and adopt animal-free testing. I ask that you immediately accept the ECVAM validated non-animal tests. A nation shows its strength by the advancements it makes.
